

A New Method of Moving Asymptotes with Trust Region Technique

Ni Qin

Abstract : A new method of moving asymptotes with trust region technique is proposed for solving general nonlinear programming problem. In this method, a convex subproblem is solved at each iterate and the choice of asymptotes is controlled by the trust region radius. The global convergence of the algorithm is proved under the mild conditions.