Subject Synopsis/ Indicative Syllabus	 Experiential Learning: As a contrast to the didactic learning approach used in lectures, students will learn from their experience through participation and interaction in small group. Instructional components will also be integrated with the experiential components to clarify concepts/ theories related to self-understanding and communication.
	2. Process and Pattern of Human Communication: To understand the elements of communication process and enhance sensitivity in observing and using both verbal and non-verbal communication;
	 Value Clarification: By drawing upon students' own life and work experiences, they can understand better their own value stances and personal feelings, especially on social controversial issues (e.g. gender, homosexuality and intimacy issues). In this way, students are likely to be in a better position to understand and respect the persons with whom they are working;
	4. Self-understanding: To initiate a process of multi-dimensional self-exploration by enabling students to reflect upon their past behaviors and experiences; to understand how social determinants (such as class, gender, age, culture, cohort, ethnicity and ideologies subscribed, sexual orientation, religion, etc) have been constituting oneself; to assess their own strengths and weaknesses; to acquire greater self-awareness and to develop a realistic and positive self- concept (including the ideal, dynamic, rational and social self, etc);
	 Relationship: To understand the core conditions of warmth, genuineness, empathy, concreteness, and to develop ability to self-disclose at appropriate times and situations in order to develop effective helping relationships;
	6. Interpersonal Communication Skills: To understand and acquire the basic skills of communication, including effective attending behavior, listening and questioning techniques, encouragement, paraphrasing, reflection of feelings, summarization, refocusing, self-assertion and appropriate use of self.
