	The grade is calculated according to the percentage assigned. Students must pass all the components stated above if they are to be considered as passing the subjects.
Objectives	The subject aims to enable students to get acquainted with the development of Modern China in respect to her social and political ups and downs in the 20th century, and to assess the impact of such on the normative foundation of contemporary Chinese on the one hand, and to comprehend those factors that may foster or constrain the future development of the People's Republic of China on the other.
Intended Learning Outcomes (Note 1)	Upon completion of the subject, students will be able to: <ol style="list-style-type: none"> 1. grasp the socio-political development of Modern China since the turn of the last century and its impact on the formation of People's Republic of China; 2. gain an overview of the social and political issues in the course of modernization of Communist China between 1949 and 1978; and 3. come to terms with the dilemmas and potentials of social, political and cultural changes of Mainland China since the Post-Mao era as set against the above two contextual backgrounds.

Subject Synopsis/ Indicative Syllabus (Note 2)	China in Retrospect <ul style="list-style-type: none"> - Socio-political factors leading to the emergence of PRC - Causes and consequences of various movements in 1950s and 1960s - The impact of the Cultural revolution on the development of the country China in Reform <ul style="list-style-type: none"> - Political and Social dilemmas of the reform era - Economic and cultural clashes since China's re-opening China in Future <ul style="list-style-type: none"> - Understanding the changes of cultural values and social norms of contemporary Chinese lives - Exploring the political relationship between PRC and Taiwan - China entering the global and digital world: its impact on the socio-cultural side of the society
Teaching/Learning Methodology (Note 3)	In addition to the delivery of lectures, local TV documentaries on related topics, as well as Chinese films, will be frequently used as supplementary teaching / learning materials. Online news is a must in supporting ad-hoc discussions of topics related to the curriculum. The students will be assessed by the way how they prepare and participate in the round-table discussion (such as accuracy of grasping core themes of reference materials, logic of argument, on-spot participation). In addition, each of them will be individually assessed by assignments in the form of term-end paper and quiz.

The 'round-table discussion' and 'term paper topic' are being selected by students, and term end quiz is an open-book assessment: the whole logic behind is not of memorizing terms and events, but going behind facts and views to generate one's stand on understanding contemporary Chinese society.	Specific assessment methods/tasks	% weighting	Intended subject learning outcomes to be assessed (Please tick as appropriate)						a	b	c	d	e		Participation in round table discussion	25 %	✓	✓	✓				Term paper	50 %	✓	✓	✓				Term End Quiz	25 %	✓	✓	✓				Total	100 %

Note 1: Intended Learning Outcomes

Intended learning outcomes should state what students should be able to do or attain upon completion of the subject. Subject outcomes are expected to contribute to the attainment of the overall programme outcomes.

Note 2: Subject Synopsis/ Indicative Syllabus

The syllabus should adequately address the intended learning outcomes. At the same time over-crowding of the syllabus should be avoided.

Note 3: Teaching/Learning Methodology

This section should include a brief description of the teaching and learning methods to be employed to facilitate learning, and a justification of how the methods are aligned with the intended learning outcomes of the subject.

Note 4: Assessment Method

This section should include the assessment method(s) to be used and its relative weighting, and indicate which of the subject intended learning outcomes that each method purports to assess. It should also provide a brief explanation of the appropriateness of the assessment methods in assessing the intended learning outcomes.
