

The 14th East Asia-Pacific Conference on Structural Engineering and Construction (EASEC 14) – Ho Chi Minh City, Vietnam 2016.01.06-08

On 6th to 8th January 2016, the 14th East Asia-Pacific Conference on Structural Engineering and Construction (EASEC 14), organized by Vietnam Ho Chi Minh City University of Science and Technology, jointly organized by National University of Civil Engineering, Architectural Institute of Science and Technology, Architecture University of Ho Chi Minh City, Vietnam and Vietnam Structure Engineering and Architectural Association, was held in Ho Chi Minh City, Vietnam. 486 representatives from 18 countries and regions all over the world attended the meeting. Dr. T.M. Chan and Dr. H.C. Ho, Deputy Secretary General of the Chinese National Engineering Research Centre for Steel Construction (Hong Kong Branch) [CNERC] were invited to attend and give technical reports.

Opening ceremony

Dr. H.C. Ho and Dr. T.M. Chan

On 7th January 2016, Dr. T.M. Chan, Deputy Secretary General of the CNERC, hosted a technical meeting called “Latest development in Hong Kong's construction engineering”. A total of 6 papers report the research projects cooperating by Hong Kong Branch and Hong Kong Constructional Metal Structures Association on this meeting.