

One more time: What constitutes great scholarship?

A series on the Scholarship of Teaching & Learning (SoTL)

by Faculty of Business and Department of Management and Marketing

Register Now!

PURPOSE

The aim of these developmental sharing sessions is to support and encourage our colleagues on the opportunities of going “from good teaching to scholarly teaching”. To help and guide you in this possibility, we have lined up the editors from the top teaching & learning journals in the organization sciences, along with additional A* journal editors/chairs to share their insights on what makes great scholarship. It is our hope that you will take away the success stories and lessons learned from these senior editors' experiences and turn your ideas into scholarship that endures.

FORMAT

Each interactive session is designed for 40-50mins reflections/sharing by senior editors followed by open Q/A from colleagues for about 60mins. So come prepared with your questions and ideas, hopes and dreams to ignite your passion in scholarship.

(As all panel experts have given us permission, we will record these sessions for internal staff development purposes. For zoom sessions, please have your webcams “ON” to maintain high levels of professionalism).

REGISTRATION

is opened from 18 SEP to 12 OCT 23

Registration is required for attendance on a first-come-first served basis. All Faculty colleagues are welcomed.

Signed Certificate of Appreciation (by the Dean) will be issued to all colleagues who attend more than 50% of the sessions.

Lock in the dates and attend as part of your AACSB continuous professional development efforts in becoming a management education scholar.

Academy of Management Review (AMR)

16 OCT 23 (MON)
1000-1200
Rm Z210, PolyU
(In-person)

Associate Editor, AMR
Associate Professor
Chak Fu LAM

How to write a good theory? A conversation with an AMR Associate Editor

Do you know what is a THEORY and would you know it if it dropped on your feet? Why is theory and theorizing so important in both scholarship and improving managerial practice?

Academy of Management (AOM)
TLC@AOM

19 OCT 23 (THU)
1630-1830
ZOOM

Program Co-chair
TLC@AOM 2023 Boston
Professor
Christine RIVERS

How can we engage with the community of management education scholars and establish our scholarly persona?

What are the types of proposals and hot topics that were showcased in this year's Boston Academy of Management Teaching & Learning Conference (the “conference within a conference”)? Be inspired to consider submitting your best work to spread your success stories and lessons learned so that others can benefit for a better world...

Management Learning (ML)

24 OCT 23 (TUE)
1500-1700
ZOOM

Co-Editor-in-Chief, ML
Professor
Martyna SLIWA

Developing and publishing management learning scholarship based on our educational practice: Advice and suggestions from the editors of Management Learning

What is “critical” management and how can you reflect/ reflex on telling your story of educational practice to the broader community of scholars?

Organizational Research Methods (ORM)

25 OCT 23 (WED)
0900-1100
ZOOM

Co-Editor, ORM
Professor
Tine KÖHLER

Co-Editor, ORM
Professor
Lisa Schurer LAMBERT

Taking your research to the next level: Methodological advancements for teaching scholarship

Research designs are critical to all great scholarship. There are many ways to test HOW do we know (the epistemology question). Being aware of the methods and methodologies to guide our thirst for understanding for a better tomorrow is paramount to our endurance.

Academy of Management
Learning & Education (AMLE)

30 OCT 23 (MON)
1600-1800
ZOOM

Editor-in-Chief, AMLE
Professor
Dirk LINDEBAUM

Enduring scholarship at the intersection of management learning, management education and the business of business schools

What constitutes great scholarship in AMLE? What are the BIG topics of the day, the big challenges of our time that we can address, and in the process, extend our work to how we learn and unlearn beyond the realms of our own paradigms.

Journal of Management
Education (JME)

31 OCT 23 (TUE)
0830-1030
ZOOM

Co-Editor, JME
Associate Professor
Melanie ROBINSON

Co-Editor, JME
Professor
Jennifer S. LEIGH

Building your management education scholarship pipeline: Starting now

A journey to a thousand miles begins with one step. It's all about the “small steps” (the small wins) that culminates to the big successes of our time; and it's the same rule in academia and publishing management education scholarship.

Series Organizer

Robert WRIGHT
Associate Professor
Associate Editor, JME
Editorial Board, AMLE
Editorial Board, ORM
Previous Editorial Board, AMR
Previous Editorial Board, JOB