

Russell Corp. Far East Limited

Being part of a leading American Company with a family of brands globally, we are one of the Apparel and Hardgoods Sourcing & Product Development Office with the entities at Hong Kong and Asia. To cope with our expansion, we are looking for the Junior Testing Technician based at Hong Kong office for various brands with the below details.

Junior Testing Technician

The primary responsibilities of the Junior Testing Technician in the Hong Kong laboratory are to perform material testing on bulk and new materials as needed to support the Purchasing, Product Development, and Quality needs of the US offices. This individual will test for conformance against specifications and identify when materials fail to comply.

Will provide test results and recommendations to the supplier / vendor / material sourcing under Manager's guidance. And to perform certification garment washing test, evaluation and comment to vendors as one important part of the certification garment approval process, and to Assist color associate for the color readings & preliminary assessment.

Responsibilities:

- Test materials as needed to support the efforts of the Hong Kong laboratory
- Perform testing on special projects, requests, correlation evaluations, etc. as directed by Tech. Services Manager. Provides recommendations for materials not conforming to spec.
- Certification Garment Washing test, evaluation and comment to Garment Vendors
- Assist Color associate for the color readings & preliminary assessment.
- Advise suppliers of rejections/approvals of bulk materials and communicate this to Purchasing.
- Monitor and bring up new fabric suppliers
- Keep the machineries and equipment well maintained by working with machine vendors and service providers

Requirements:

- High school diploma or equivalent with 1 to 3 years' experience in laboratory testing, graduates are welcomed.
- Strong communication skills and organizational skills
- Competent PC skills
- Chinese and English proficiency

Please note that Russell Corp. Far East Limited is an equal opportunity employer with no discrimination against age, gender, religious, race and lifestyle. We are committed to building a diverse, equitable and inclusive workplace for our employee. We offer 5 days work, 13th month, medical benefits and competitive package with good career development opportunity. Interested parties, please send the application with full resume to hrhongkong@fotlinc.com

Personal data will be used for recruitment purpose only