

We're an apparel company in Hong Kong. We provide innovative supply chain management solutions to our customers. We offer a comprehensive range of services ranging from technical solutions, research, design and product development to sourcing and production management and quality control services for clients based all over the world.

With over 30 years' experience in apparel & accessory sourcing, we helped brands and retailers from start-up, scaling into multimillion dollar businesses. managing their full vertical DTC, end to end supply chain.

We are looking for talented candidates to join our expanding teams to support our business growth.

Junior Fashion Designer

Job Responsibilities:

- Responsible for fashion design with focus on graphic
- Assist in developing seasonal fashion concept and collection of international retail market
- Propose visual communication materials for apparel collection
- Prepare graphics for seasonal collections and related projects
- Propose graphics on apparels according to business range plan
- Follow through the whole process of design functions from themes and concept, sourcing and selecting of fabric and trims, tech pack with sketches, presentation of styling, fitting session until pre-production sample stage
- Perform research for seasonal fashion trend, colours, fabrication and accessories

Job Requirements:

- DSE / Form 5 or any equivalent qualification or above
- Proficient in both PC and design software Experience in using Illustrator and Photoshop is a must
- Creative yet with strong commercial sense
- Organized with good planning skills
- Self-motivated, energetic, responsible with good design sense and the ability to work independently and under pressure
- Excellent verbal and written communications skills in English and Mandarin
- Strong listening, presentation and decision-making skills

We offer competitive remuneration package. Interested parties please apply with your full resume with expected salary to : kachun@707limited.com