Service Project
What will students do to serve?	The service project uses Chinese literary masterpieces as a tool to introduce less educated families (both parents and children) to traditional Chinese moral and ethical values in order to increase their awareness and understanding of Chinese moral and ethical values, and for students and parent groups to be able to apply these Chinese moral and ethical values to deal with real-world familial and social situations. Each group of students will be paired with one parent group. Each student is required to (a) visit and communicate with the target service recipients and become familiar with their familial, social backgrounds and educational needs in order to design an activity proposal and plan; (b) discuss and share the moral and ethical values of Chinese literary masterpieces through various innovative activities, including but not limited to story-telling, presentations, workshops and activities to the target service recipients; (c) explore its application in their familial and social issues; (d) perform a professional role in literary studies and education during the delivery of service, (e) work effectively and co-operatively as a team to deal with the challenging service setting.
